Big Revival Will Begin at the Baptist Church in This City.

DR. JENKINS COMING.

Will Conduct the Revival Himself, Beginning On the 18th.

Rev. Millard A. Jenkins, the new pastor of the Baptist church, will remain at Dublin, Ga., until after the second Sunday and arrive here to enter upon his duties about November 15th. A series of meetings will be inaugurated Sunday, Nov. 18th, and continue some time. Dr. Jenkins excels in revival work and his pastorate is expected to begin with a general revival in the church.

LAYING ASPHALT.

Bowling Green's System Subject of Government Inspection.

Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 31.—V. W. Dow, a highway engineer of the Good Roads Department, Washington, D. C., is here for several days, inspecting Bowling Green's asphalt streets. The streets here are made by putting the asphalt on the macadam without the usual heating process, leaving it to be beaten down by travel over it. The experiment here has proved gratifyingly successful. The department is very much interested in the matter of asphalt on the public highway, as well as on the streets of cities, and is investigating and making tests along this line. Mr. Dow was greatly pleased with the asphalt streets here and the new process of building them.

A street of this asphalt is being tried here. While it promises some decided advantages, it is too expensive for general use.

LIVED TOGETHER

Only Five Months, Says Plaintiff in Her Petition.

Among the recent suits filed with the Circuit clerk for trial at the next term of court is that of Mrs. Maggie Messamore against Water Messamore, for divorce. Plaintiff states that they were married in January, 1905, and lived together until the following June. Abandonment is charged.

The parties live in the extreme north part of the county, near the Hopkins county line. J. T. Alexander, of Dawson, is the Attorney for the plaintiff.

Mrs. Messamore, in addition to a divorce, asks that she be restored to her maiden name, Maggie Moore.

Working Overtime.

The men in the blacksmithing department of the Forbes Mfg. Co. began Monday night working overtime and they are putting in twelve hours a day now. Overcrowded with work and a scarcity of help makes the night work necessary. This man-moth corporation can run through last winter without a shut down, and the prospects now are that they will be much busier this winter than ever before.

Mrs. Nash to Leave.

Mrs. C. H. Nash and daughter, Miss May Nash, will leave Tuesday for Temple Tex., to join Dr. Nash who has been there for the last two weeks. Word comes that Dr. Nash, at his first service, preached a strong sermon on missions, and raised nearly $1,000 for State missions.

Horrible Death of a Colored Woman Near Pem- broke.

CHILD WAS UNINJURED.

Alone in the House When Her Dress Caught From Fireplace.

The wife of Jim Long, a colored farm hand living on Mr. Lee Oliver's farm, near Pembroke, was burned to death Monday afternoon. Long was at work in the neighborhood and his wife and baby were alone in their house. The woman was in the act of placing her baby in a chair near the fireplace, when her dress caught and she was instantly enveloped in flames. She seized the child and ran out doors. Her screams attracted some men who were moving wheat from a granary near by and they ran to her assistance. The woman started back into the house, but fell and was placed on a bed and wrapped in bedding. A physician was immediately summoned and rendered all the relief possible, but death resulted in a few hours. The baby was not injured.

NEGROES PLAY HIGHWAYMEN

And Fire Upon White Men In Mississippi.

INFLAMED BY A PLAY.

Officers In Pursuit of the Gang With a Posse of Whites.

Brookville, Miss., Oct. 31.—Inflamed by the presentation of "The Clansman," a party of negroes masked themselves, hid at the side of a road and attacked two white men. William Godbold's horse was shot from under him, but he made his escape. A white man unknown to him, riding in the rear, was wounded, fell from his horse and was captured by the negroes. The trouble took place at Bear Creek, near here. Officers and whites have gone to Bear Creek to try to rescue the captured man.

NEW HOTEL

At Crofton Now Open for Business.

The new hotel at Crofton has been opened to the traveling public. The building, a beautiful brick, is owned by the Crofton Hotel Co., and is under the management of Mr. G. Clark Bowles. Our Pattern Department

Dainty Lingerie Gown.

Pattern No. 5659—New designs for underwear that are simple in construction and at the same time graceful and becoming, are in general demand, and an unusually attractive night dress is here pictured in nainsook trimmed with lace and embroidery. The round neck is of moderate size and sits in on the bust, and is finished by ribbon run beading. The bell-shaped sleeves are in the fashionable three-quarter length finished by a frill of lace. Lonscloth, lawn, China silk and linen are all suggested for the making. For 36 inches bust measure six and one-eighth yards of material. The inches wide will be required. Sizes for 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure.

This pattern will be sent to you on receipt of 10 cents. Address all orders to the Pattern Department of this paper. Be sure to give size and number of pattern wanted. For convenience, write your order on the following coupon:

LADIES' SHIRTWAIST.

Pattern No. 5473.—The most recent shirtwaist designs show the square neck, opening over a dainty tucker or close-fitting bodice. The shoulders are close in from under a box plait, and deep steps at the bust shoulders give a graceful amount of fullness, that is drawn down into the belt by gathers. The shirtwaist sleeve is of moderate fullness, finished by a deep cuff. All the waistings are of broad material, such as taffeta, batiste, pointed sheer, and organdy. The medium size will require two and five-eighths yards of 36-inch material. Sizes for 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure.

This pattern will be sent to you on receipt of 10 cents. Address all orders to the Pattern Department of this paper. Be sure to give size and number of pattern wanted. For convenience, write your order on the following coupon:

Shaping the Nails.—The natural shape for the nail is oval, or slightly pointed, and the almond-shaped nail is indicative of good birth. If the nail is flat it is probable that the fingers are not tapering, and much can be done by manipulation to remedy that defect. While the fingers are not tapering, the nail should be pointed, and the fingers will soon assume a more tapering conical, and the nail will become "almond" in form. After filing the nail to the proper shape, a tiny emery board should be used to smooth the rough edges, and if scissars must be used, upon the curved scissars of fine steel that are sold especially for the purpose and which do not injure any part. A few drops of acid placed upon the skin that has been pushed away from the nail will keep it from growing again.—The Home Magazine for October.

Actresses vs. Hens

One of the Boston papers recently published a report of a "hen race" in which various actresses on a summer outing participated. The method of the race was to attach a hen to an actress by a string tied to each leg (of the hen), and used as reins by which the hands of the actress attempted to guide, drive, coax, persuade or "shoo" the hen over a fifty yards course. Accompanying the report of the event were pictures of the actresses winning first and second prizes in the race. These pictures were not of the actresses during the race, but in poses designed to have an advertising value on their business.

Perhaps we should be grateful to the ladies of the footlights for giving the hen a little incidental advertising. As the hen doesn't need that kind of advertising, we think the obligation is the other way, but the use of such "news" suggests that either the actresses or their agents, or the newsgatherers have only faintly appreciated the advertising possibilities of domestic fowls.

Let one of the ladies get out in the due of early morn, and track a weary turkey hen to her nest, following her over rocks, through brambles and brush, and across many swamps, and then, when the wish of many bulls, snakes, etc., and let a corps of reporters, moving picture makers, phonograph record makers and reporters attend, and let them give us the events of the route without exaggeration or imagination, and we will warrant that if the thing is done true to life, the results will be of great interest.

If poultry must be used to advertise "the profession," let the fowls have a square deal instead of pitting a little hen from some obscure back yard against a woman of the world; let the lady match her strength and skill with those of a vigorous gander who only goes to the hen when his master occupies by his family or let him undertake to find a flock (only a little flock) of hens from a flower bed for which they have formed an attachment. In such occupations they would find possibilities of excitement, far beyond those afforded by one hen to the titillations of both legs. The contest is too unequal. It is not a square deal. Give the hen a chance.—Farm poultry.

Turkey Breeding in the Balkans.

The turkey is very popular in south-eastern Europe, in fact I have seen larger flocks in Hungary and Servia than in any other land. In Hungary, where this branch of poultry culture has enormously developed of late years, I have seen flocks of white turkeys there finer than I met with elsewhere, even in southern France, which is regarded as the home of the white turkey. This variety is so popular because white feathers command a higher price than colored, and the plumage is of considerable value. By the annual run of turkeys are black, a proof of their descent from the Mexican species first imported four hundred years ago, and not from the Bronze American, which has been so largely used of late. The Hungarians have crossed in with the Bronze bird, and the black influence is predominant, which is true to a greater extent in Servia and the Balkan districts generally than in Hungary.

The type of bird met with is largely black in plumage, is somewhat small in size, not exceeding 12 to 16 pounds when fully grown, and is very tame, which kind is for Christmas. They range from 6 to 10 pounds. They are dark in leg, and have gray flesh. Very little attempt has been made to improve the race, either in respect to size or flesh qualities, and like most of the fowls in southern Europe, they are sold at a southern discount, due to the method of finishing. The prices obtainable are small. Until the birds are fed in a manner which will increase and improve the flesh qualities, the trade cannot yield much to producers or traders.—Ex

Hay for Poultry.

The suggestion that hay makes a good winter food for poultry would have been ridiculed a few years ago, but experience has proved that clover hay is now almost a necessary portion of a hen's cold weather diet. Clover hay for fowls should be cut very fine, not over half an inch in length, steamed and sealed, and fed once a day. A small quantity of corn meal and bran sprinkled over the cut hay will improve it. One reason clover is such an excellent food for hens is that it is rich in lime, a substance the hens require in providing the shells for eggs. It is about equal to corn as a flesh producer, and contains nearly thirty times as much lime. It is plentiful on all farms, and requires but little time in preparation. After the green food is gone it will keep the hen in laying condition, and increase the production of eggs.—Journal of Agriculture.

C. B. Eades, of the firm of Eades & Davis, proprietors of the coal yard on Seventh street and 402 East N. R. R., and who lives at 402 East Seventh street, says: "I saw Doan's Kidney pills advertised and highly recommended by persons who had used them that I procured a box and gave them a thorough trial. I had suffered for a long time with a heavy pain across the small of my back, sharp and acute at times. When I came cold I also suffered from a headache, and there followed a weakness of the kidneys which was exasperating especially at night. I tried various remedies but none of them gave the satisfactory results that I obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney pills. I am pleased to say that this brought me great relief. I have recommended Doan's Kidney pills and will continue to do to all my friends and acquaintances."

REVIVAL.

The pastor and members of the First Presbyterian church are making an effort to have Rev. Chester Burch come here and conduct a meeting about the second week in January.

Mr. Burch is well known here as he conducted a meeting at the above named church some years ago. He is one of the finest concert players in the United States and uses his instrument in all his meetings.

Since he was here he has been ordained as a minister but still continues his evangelistic work and has had a wonderful success. He is to conduct a revival in Washington City the latter part of December, and will come here afterwards if the way be open.

Prof. E. A. Gullion has probably had more to do with common school legislation than any other school man in the State. He wrote most of the amendments that have been made to the common school law in the last sixteen years and pressed them upon the legislature, having been selected for that purpose by the Kentucky Educational Association. He served without compensation too. Among his amendments was one abolishing the short term style. If elected State Superintendent Mr. Gullion will not only know the wants of the schools and the common system, but will know how to meet them so far as legislation is concerned.

Judge Shute, Edward Stratemeyer,
Eccret T. Tomlinson, and Horatio Alger, Jr., occupy prominent positions in the November AMERICAN
BIOGRAPHY with their stirring serials.
Scarcely secondary to these are short stories whose very titles should attract the interest of the boys: "A Visit from the Cheyennes"; "The Lard Eaters"; "The Society of the F. F. F.," "A Fight With a Panther"; "An Historic Walking Match"; "Tim's Pig"; "For the Glory of St. Mary's"; a fine football story. The color cover is appropriate to the Thanksgiving season. $1.00

Archbishop Mueller, of Cincinnati,
has decided the famous Spalding
Coleman case against the Louisville Bishop, Rev. W. G. McCloskey, who refused to let the body of Coleman, who was a devout Catholic, have funeral services in the Catholic church
because the burial was to be in Cave
Hill, a non Catholic cemetery.
The body was refused the rite after it had been taken into the church, and a great sensation was created. Coleman's brothers appealed to the Archbishop, who has ordered that a requiem mass for the repose of Coleman's soul be said, and that his grave

in Cave Hill be blessed, as is customary with the Catholics. The Bishop is ordered to make public announcement of the mass. It is understood that the Colemans are satisfied with the decision, and will take no further steps.

"Lively" of all the November
magazines is the Review of Reviews,
with every one of its special features and all its departments edited in the light of the news. Charles E.
Hughes and Governor Magoun, two "men of the month" are the subjects of character sketches. Copper the great industrial fact of the month (see the market quotations),
is the topic selected for most extensive treatment. The British House of Lords, a venerable institution that is facing a crisis in its history as Parliament reassembles, is the subject of a trenchant political essay
from the pen of W. T. Stead. There are other contributed articles, on Secretary Root's recently-completed
South American tour, its purpose
and its achievements; Mexico's fighting equipment, made conspicuous by the military failures of other Latin American States; Dr. Schumacher,
the brilliant young German economist who is lecturing this fall at Columbia University on the Kaiser Wilhelm foundation; and the forthcoming visit of British teachers to the United States. In the editorial departments the Hearst movement and the latest phases of the Cuban
"news" topic discuss at length.
To know what the political campaign in many States represents one should read the November Review of Reviews on the eve of the election.

As a Superintendent of county and city schools at Carrollton, Prof. E.
A. Gullion put his schools on the highest plane of excellence. His practical knowledge, acquired in the past, will enable him to do great service to the common schools of the State.

The Beckham campaign committee has completed a poll of Christian county and expresses entire confidence that the Governor will have an ample majority in the county.
The organization is complete and unless figures lie there is a great surprise in store for somebody.

Hager will be several hundred votes stronger in this county than Gov. Beckham, for the reason that Hager has no strong personal following like Senator McCreary. Many McCreary men are outspoken for Hager and practically all of the Beckham men are for him.

Crenshaw will get practically a solid vote in this county as his opponent is unknown in Western Kentucky. Crenshaw looks a sure winner.

TOO MUCH BITTERS.

Asylum Patient Takes Big
Drink and Dies.

Tom Kennedy, an asylum inmate from Todd county, died one day last week from the effects of a large quantity of Bitter Tonic, composed of strichnine, quinine and iron, which he swallowed. Kennedy was a trusty, and entering one of the negro wards he went to the medicine chest, where he secured a bottle of the bitters from which he took freely.

A stomach pump was used and every effort made to relieve him but to no avail.

Kennedy was fifty-five years old and had been in the institution the most of the time for about ten years, having been discharged and returned several times.

THEATRE MEETING

Postponed Until Friday Night
of Next Week.

The mass meeting in the interest of the new theatre building called for Friday night has been postponed
one week until Friday, Nov. 9th.
So many prominent speakers were brought to be out of town and the fact that the meeting would conflict with the council meeting caused the postponement. Much interest is being manifested in the project, by many prominent citizens.

HIS ELECTION NEEDED.

Advise All Democrats to Vote for His Nomination Tuesday.

As a school man my interest in the coming Democratic primary centers
in the nomination of a State School Superintendent. I am interested in this for two reasons: As a Democrat
I feel a pride in having my party offer the best available man to the voters of the Commonwealth. As a school man whose heart and strength
have been given to the cause of education
I am doubly interested in having a man elected to this office who is honest, able, progressive, and whose experience in school work fits him to grapple intelligently with the burning question of the day: "How may the country people have as good educational advantages as those of the cities?"

Feeling that these two ends may be more nearly gained in the nomination and election of Hon. E. A.
Gullion than in that of any of his opponents, I shall gladly vote for him. He is a man and a Democrat of whom no Kentuckian need feel ashamed when it comes to voting at the regular election. He is a true man and a life-long Democrat.
Above all he is pre-eminently qualified, both by training and experience for the sacred office to which he aspires. He is not only well educated, but his training that peculiarly fits him for Superintendent of Public Instruction has been in the rural schools as teacher, and as Superintendent of County Schools. His long experience as teacher in the county schools places him in close touch with the humblest rural school in the State, and in sympathy with poorly paid, struggling rural teachers everywhere. His sixteen years experience as County School Superintendent has made him familiar with the entire school system. He knows the strong and the weak places, and he can intelligently direct its operations from his first day in office, while one without his wide experience would be at sea
during a great part of his administration.

Loving Kentucky as we do, we all want to take from her the disgrace of illiteracy. Before we can make much progress we must have a leader who is tried and true. Such a man is Gullion. His nomination means little at the regular election,
because both Democrats and Republicans recognize his ability, worth,
and general fitness for the office.
His election will inaugurate a new era in education for rural Kentucky,
something which we earnestly desire.

Yours for better things education-
ally,
M. A. CASSIDY.
Lexington, Ky.

Prof. Fuqua's Tribute.

I am writing in the interest of Mr.
E. A. Gullion, of Henry county, candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

It has been my pleasure to know Mr.
Gullion during his term as Superintendent of Carroll county, and as editor of a paper at New Castle. In both positions he has been an ardent advocate of improved education, in latter years using the columns of his paper for advancing the cause of Kentucky schools.

During my term of office many improvements have been made in education. Two normal schools have been established; the term increased from five to six months; the per capita has grown to $2.30, the largest in the history of the State.
I have planned much other work
that will greatly redound to the benefit of the schools, and if elected, I am satisfied that Mr. Gullion will push these plans to execution. I shall remain in school work as a member of his State Board of Examiners,
and as such will be closely identified with the cause of education.

Thanking you for your co-operation in the past, and trusting that

TWO SYNODS IN SESSION.

Large Crowds Attending Sessions of Both Bodies.

THEY ADJOURN TO-DAY.

No Acrimony Injected Into Any of the Addresses by the Preachers.

EVANGELISTIC CONFERENCE.
The evangelistic conference of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., closed its meetings in the First church Tuesday night. The event was one that will not soon be forgotten and its results will last indefinitely. The address by Dr. Calhoun, at the opening session Monday night claimed the closest attention of the large audience. He spoke in a most earnest and impressive manner of the need of a revival of the churches and the prayers of God's people for the evangelization of the world, and that if the people will come up to the requirements God will bless every effort by the churches for the advancement of His kingdom. The sessions during the day were largely attended and the best plans to secure revivals were discussed informally by the ministers in attendance. The sessions were brought to a close Tuesday afternoon with an address by Dr. Darby, of Evansville.

SYNOD "A."

Synod "A," which claims to be the legal successor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, which held its last meeting at Greenville, was opened with prayer Tuesday night by Rev. Hunter Corbett, D. D. Dr. Corbett was the Moderator of the General Assembly which met at Des Moines, Iowa, in May, when the union of the Presbyterian and Cumberland churches was consummated. He has been Missionary to China for 40 years and is to return.

The opening sermon was preached by Dr. Joseph W. Cochran, of Philadelphia, who took as his text Daniel 10:10—"An hand touched me." This was a most powerful discourse in which the speaker emphasized the necessity of the ministry and laity getting into close contact with the unsaved so as to bring them to God. He believes that where one man is brought into the preaching of the word nine are led to God by personal appeal, a grasping of the hand and a straight look into the eye.

The election of a Moderator of Synod A, which will only exist for a year, when the General Assembly will merge it into the Kentucky Synod next May, at Columbus, Ohio, was taken up. Rev. W. P. Thurstton, of Owensboro, was put in nomination and the stated clerk called to cast the ballot of the Synod for him.

Yesterday morning was taken up in hearing the reports of the Treasurer, Trustees of Auburn Seminary, and addresses by Rev. J. Beveridge Lee, D. D., and Rev. Dr. Dickinson.

After devotional exercises the usual Synodical sacrament was administered. The afternoon session called for reports from the committees on Finance, Publication, Church Extension Work, and Missions. These reports were received and the committees continued. Addresses were delivered by Dr. E. L. Warren, Stated Clerk of Kentucky Synod, and Rev. Dixon, D. D.

A popular meeting on missions was held Wednesday night, and addresses were delivered by Rev. B. P. Fullerton, of St. Louis, and Dr. Hunter Corbett, of China.

The synod will convene this morning at 8:30, and after devotional services regular business will be taken up and reports be heard from the committees on Sunday Schools and Temperance. This will be followed by an address from Rev. Dr. Hill. This afternoon the reports on education, Records, Bills and Overtures and Nominations will be heard. After the transaction of miscellaneous business the Synod will adjourn.

and on through the coming years seemed to pervade almost the entire assembly.

The usual custom of unveiling the log cabin was observed, but organization was postponed until Thursday morning.

Mrs. I. H. Goodnight, of Franklin, Ky., secretary and treasurer of the Woman's Missionary Society, announced a meeting for yesterday at the Christian church. The question as to the authority to call the meeting was brought up, but it was finally decided to let the ladies settle the matter themselves when they convened.

Thursday morning the roll was called and the election of a moderator and stated clerk was taken up, which resulted in the election of Rev. J. T. Barbee, of Owenton, as moderator and Rev. B. McEwin, of Cumberland, as stated clerk.

The order of business outlined for yesterday morning after devotional service was the appointment of committee and other business. Addresses were heard on Church History, and Denominational Literature.

Wednesday afternoon there were discussions on Our Books and Our Work. After talks on these two subjects, the regular business was resumed.

This morning and afternoon the following program will be observed: 8:30—Devotional. 9:00—Business, Reports, Resolutions.

11:00—Sermon. 12:00—Luncheon served by ladies at Odd Fellows Hall.

AFTERNOON.

FIVE LADIES

Engaged for Their Youth, Beauty, and Talent.

The company engaged for the modern comedy by Cleveland Moffett and Hartley Davis, the vehicle which Joseph and Wm. W. Jefferson are using this season to exploit the talents inherited from their late revered father, contains five ladies especially engaged for their youth, beauty and talents. Beauty is a distinguishing feature, and when the Misses Blanche Bender, Ruby Bridges, Alexandra Phillips, Margaret Malcolm and Anna Bradley are gotten together for a production, something a little better than the ordinary may be reasonably expected. The dresses of these ladies are spoken of as being elegant in the extreme. This attraction, with its wealth of scenery and effects, will be the attraction at the opera house, Saturday night, Nov. 10.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES.

Dr. Mason, of Louisville, to conduct Ten Days' Service.

Rev. Dr. Mason, rector of St. Andrews church, Louisville, will conduct a ten days' mission at Grace Episcopal church in this city, beginning next Tuesday, November 6. Mr. Phelps Cowan, now of Chicago, will act as organist and have charge of the music. A most cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend these services. Dr. Mason is a most interesting and logical speaker, and never fails to deeply interest his hearers.

WORK BEGUN

On the New Forbes Office Building.

The Forbes Mfg. Co. have begun work on their new office building on the corner of Main and Tenth streets. The beautiful shade trees have this week been cut down and the foundation of the building will be put in this fall. It will be 60 feet front and 165 feet deep, two stories high and equipped with steam heat and electric lights. It will contain the offices of the entire plant on the Tenth street side and the rest of the building will be used as a "repository."

PLANTERS' ASSOCIATION

Has Made a Prosperous And Happy People of Its Members.

GOOD SUGGESTIONS.

A Dip Into the Organization and Its Original Origin.

To the Kentuckian:

The success of the Planters' Protective Association of Kentucky, Tennessee, and Virginia, is a fixed fact; and this is acknowledged by the world. It has made a country prosperous, and that country's people happy. The Western Districts of Kentucky and Tennessee are being earnestly and thoroughly canvassed by agents of the Association, and the farmers in these sections are rapidly putting their tobacco into this organization, and Virginia's planters are doing so too.

With all these planters in, by Christmas next, our Association can trade, if it likes, directly with every country of Europe and of the world, that requires our tobacco in its trade.

By the way, it is a mistake to say that a conference with the American Society of Equity was called at the solicitation of anybody with authority to do so, who is connected with the Planter's Protective Association, because there was no occasion for our people to confer.

We are separate organizations, independent entirely of each other, and entirely disassociated in business. Therefore all reports to that effect are in error and a mistake.

The Hon. H. B. Sherman is equally mistaken when he asserts that "every movement in the last ten years for the betterment of the farmers has been suggested by the A. S. of E." He certainly knows that the Society has not been in existence that long.

As to our movement, we have positive knowledge that in the good year of 1903, the very first year that Hon. F. G. Ewing came to Robertson county, Tenn., to live, that he conceived the plan and began very modestly to suggest our planters movement to his friends and neighbors.

Hon. E. T. Fleming, now a prominent lawyer in Butte City, Mont., counsel and attorney for various mining concerns, and for the Western Union Telegraph Company, and who was in Nashville in 1894, suggested that we speak to Mr. Ewing upon the subject of a tobacco growers association; both Fleming and the writer having been classmates at school with Mr. Ewing in 1869, and as we both knew Mr. Ewing was a practical organizer of corporations, Ewing having organized two manufacturing companies, one to manufacture plows and the other carriages.

Having then, in March 1894, accidentally met Mr. Ewing at Samuel Black's livery stable on North Cherry street in Nashville, we spoke to him at once, and to our surprise found by his reply that he had the same matter under consideration, and had already spoken to his friends and neighbors of his home county upon the subject during the year 1893.

In this conversation with us, Mr. Ewing's last remark was to the writer: "You are right, keep up the fight." Thus encouraged, and knowing Mr. Ewing's interest as a large planter of tobacco in our county we have kept the fight up to this good hour, and with cheerfully do our best to keep it up, 'till Felix G. Ewing calls off the dogs of war."

Ewing's idea has developed into the Planters' Protective Association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, (incorporated.)

By the mercy of God, and the good, practical common sense of these tobacco planters and their wives, their girls and boys, white and black, our Association has checked the oppression, in the language of President Roosevelt to our congressman, John W. Gaines, of "the worst trust in the world."

It has kept us out of the poor house; is making a large section of the state more prosperous, and the inhabitants thereof, both white and black, a most happy and thankful people to God and to Felix G. Ewing.

The truth alone compels us to write this to set Hon. H. B. Sherman right in this matter; we intend in no sense to impute any bad motive to him, in his remark, even if correctly reported, "that every movement for the last ten years for the betterment of farmers had been suggested by the A. S. of E."

What we mean here to say is that Mr. Sherman, when he made the remark, did not know these facts. Living men make history and history is written only of what has been done by those who are now dead.

Let all of the planters, who are members of our Association, go to work throughout the entire Dark Tobacco District of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, and explain in business way everything connected with the Association's work of prizing, warehousing and selling of our tobacco to all new members. Such persons are our friends and acknowledge the good of the Association, but before they join us they desire rightly to know what becomes of their tobacco. Tell these people how they can see their crops weighed and received by the prizer and how they can get his receipt for their good, seconds and lugs; how it is graded and put in the hogheads; what houses and prizers to patronize and why. How they can draw money on the prizer's and warehousemen's receipt, and how much, at what interest; then how the same is sold and the returns of sales made with the check for their money, with every item of expense. We people in the Association know all this, but the outsiders does not, and he will join us sooner or later. Then furthermore say that the Association is O. K. and has made them money and they want to join us.

Cedar Hill, Tenn., Oct. 31, 1906.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Mrs. W. A. Wilson is visiting relatives in Cadiz.

Mr. James Phelps and family have gone to Nashville to reside.

Mrs. Polk Cansler, of Hopkinsville, Ky., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Smithson, Watonga, Okla. Herald, Dr. T. W. Blakey and Mr. Gus Breathitt returned this week from a trip through Indian Territory and Oklahoma.

Mr. H. S. Glessner has returned from Pittsburgh, Pa., where he attended a meeting of the directors of the Mannington Coal Company.

Miss Hazel Roper has returned from a visit to Miss Katie Mitchell at Herndon. She accompanied a party of young people on a bucking hunt to Flat Lick while absent.

Rev. Dr. Edward Warren, clerk of the Kentucky Synod, is attending Synod A in session here. He is the guest of Mr. Walter Kelly, as is Dr. Donald McDonald, Synodical Evangelist.

DID YOU ESCAPE?

If Not Your Taxes Will Be Increased 6 Per Cent.

Yesterday was a busy day with Sheriff Smith and City Collector Moore, as it was the last day for collecting taxes before the six per cent penalty goes on. Collections have been good all of October and the city finds itself in a satisfactory financial condition for the first time this year. At the close of last night's business Mr. Moore expected to be able to turn into the treasury about $36,000 collected during the month. Sheriff Smith has been too busy to figure up his enormous receipt for county taxes.
